

Dear Parents,

As you know, next week we are will open for children in Rabbits whose parents have booked their places unless guidance changes.

With the wider opening we are increasing the number of children and adults in the building which potentially increases the risk of infection. You have received our parent protocol and you can also find our risk assessment on our website together with other COVID-19 information either on the home page or under the tab COVID INFO.

The children are being taught about socially distancing in school as well as the importance of washing their hands. Lockdown rules have eased a little but I wanted to be sure that you were all aware of the long list of dos and don'ts listed in the government's guidance. These are designed to keep us all safe by easing the lockdown slowly.

I'm sure you will understand that a large part of my role is to keep the school community as safe as possible so it is really important that we all stay alert and that if anyone in your household has any symptoms that you inform us and that you do not send your child into school.

Many thanks,

Julie Baldwin
